SUMMARY

I am a recent university graduate looking for junior positions in both technical and/or design-based roles. I am focused and determined with excellent organisational skills, which have been beneficial to scheduling tasks appropriately to work effectively and meet deadlines. This has been proven throughout my course, where there is a high expectation to complete work to high standards within each trimester. I am great with research, as evident not only through a number of articles I have written on topics of the industry but also in code when learning new skills and finding materials using research methodologies to get me to my goal quickly. I can work independently as well as working well under pressure which can be proven through my role within hospitality which has also taught me to adapt quickly when needed which helps me work well in teams.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Freelance Web Development and Design

January 2022 - Ongoing

- Working to create a website for a freelance tour guide in Ecuador that caters to a German, English and North American audience.
- Developed by following closely a layout created by following the specs the client required as well as creating features they required such as the ability to show the page in three languages: English, German and Spanish.

Bartender Associate

December 2019 - Present

Hamilton hall - Liverpool St Station, London

- I deal with the breakfast rush, often handling both bar and floor work alone in my section.
- Trusted with money handling
- I maintain the bar presentable as well as help floor staff to keep the seating areas clean.

My work at Hamilton hall has financed my expenses throughout the university, which has allowed me to focus on my studies. Additionally, my work here has taught me the value of being able to manage work when I am overwhelmed with tasks.
